

Daniel Zappi

Daniel trained at the Oxford School of Drama, and is a professional stage and screen actor, voice-over actor, theatre director, singer-songwriter, and theatre educator. He is completely bilingual, Anglo-Italian.

His most recent acting credit is a recurring role in 'Carnival Row' Series II (starring Orlando Bloom and Cara Delevingne) due to air in early 2022 on Amazon Prime.

Daniel's passion for educational projects has brought him all over Europe and North Africa where he has staged numerous youth theatre productions and led workshops in schools, prisons and mental health institutes.

Daniel is also a prolific musician, having composed numerous soundtracks and songs for theatre, short films and videogames, as well as recording and touring four original albums to-date.

During his time living and working in Central Europe, Daniel reached the finals of TV show 'Czechia and Slovakia's Got Talent 2019', as a singer.

Daniel is the founder and Creative Director of drama and education project Essere Theatre.
